Professional Summary

---

I'm a developer passionate about building meaningful apps, especially with Flutter for mobile. I've worked on creating user-friendly mobile apps and am currently expanding my skills in full-stack development. While still growing in this area, I've gained hands-on experience with both frontend and backend tasks. I'm always learning and improving, tackling problem-solving challenges on platforms like Leetcode and HackerRank. I enjoy collaborating in teams to build efficient solutions and am excited to keep growing as a developer while working on projects that make a real impact.
